Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Coast Erosion Protection Works: On the Case System in British Guiana British Guiana which is bounded on three sides by three different countries - Venezuela, Brazil and Dutch Guiana - and on one side by the Atlantic Ocean, is the only British Colony on the mainland of South America. The area of the Colony is computed to be 89,480 square miles, it is therefore as extensive as the combined area of England, Scotland and Wales, and about twice the area of the State of Pennsylvania. Sugar with its allied product of rum constitutes the most important industry of British Guiana. There are also considerable areas of rice and cocoanuts. In 1918 the total value of imports amounted to $16,292,249, a large part of which were from the United States, and the total value of exports was $14,799,316. Practically the whole of the cultivated lands of British Guiana and all the chief towns and villages are situated on the front lands, which are flat and from 3 to 4 feet below the level of high tide. The reclamation of the coast lands of British Guiana was commenced by the Dutch about the year 1750 and afterwards continued under British rule. The maintenance of the sea embankments which protect the towns and cultivated lands of the Colony from inundation by the sea is therefore of primary importance to the Colony's existence. The upkeep of the sea dams was for many years left to the estate proprietors and as more land gradually came into cultivation, it was found that the flow of water from the artificial drainage channels soon caused erosion of the foreshore. In his comprehensive...
