Magdalene
The sea of Galilee shone molten gold,
Aglow with sunset jewels wondrous, rare,
Of topaz, emerald, opal, garnet, pearl,
Ere sinking down to rest in lap of Night,
The sun kissed warm the green and distant hills;
And crowned the lowly, noble Nazarene
With aureole of light and bright fire gems,
As sitting in the midst of multitudes,
He preached to them and spake his parables.
Twas long before his death; he taught them there Beside the sea, the mighty throngs that came To him.
He taught them God, beautiful truth, His deep, infinite love for all the world, His grace, compassion sweet and mercy full
For erring, fallen ones gone far astray.
And as he spake these things, the maimed and blind,
The sick and those with unclean spirits came
To him to make them whole and purify.
Sad women, sore distressed and demon-cursed,
Before him knelt, besought his mercy kind,
And among them one was Mary Magdalen,
Of beauty rare and sylph-like grace and charm,
Before him...

Reviews

It is a single one of my personal favorite ebooks. Better than never, though I am quite late in starting to read this one. I am effortlessly getting a satisfaction from reading a published ebook.
