What can we say to these good friends to assure them of our gratefulness? Would they might all come and see what their gifts have procuredthe bread they have cast upon the waters they may already find. To our liberal patron of so many years, Mr. S. T. Dauchy, we acknowledge our indebtedness with sincerity. To our Physicians we repeat our hearty thanks for their gratuitous and faithful services--to our Advisory Board---and to the troop of friends who have assisted the work. On Sabbath afternoons the household have come together with much regularity for the service of prayer and praise. The number of children taken care of during the year is (90) ninety; the number of women (40) forty. There are at present in the Nursery: Matron, two caretakers, one night nurse, cook, two laundresses, and fifty-four babies. The applications, worthy or otherwise, are made daily, and, for humanity s sake, we have accepted some since our entrance into this new Home whom we knew could live but a short time, and, for the first time in the history of the Nursery, whooping cough has been brought into it, and foretells a hard summer for babies and nurses. There have been but few deaths, comparatively, among our number of little ones, and this is a source of gratitude. Their feebleness often gives us much solicitude, but we are conscious of faithful watchings and attentions. We take no little...
